After Susan Brunell's twenty-year-old daughter dies in an automobile accident, she finds herself on a journey of grief that, until then, she could not even imagine. As she travels down this path that has been determined for her, she learns about death and its effect on her life and the lives of others she loves.

This is a book to help those who are experiencing grief learn ways to cope and find peace in their lives. A secondary purpose is to help those who care about grievers learn ways to support them through the process.
